

“BACK BLAST AREA CLEAR!” the verbal confirmation that there is no one in the back blast range prior to firing an anti-tank rocket launcher, also refers to a pause before embarking on a specific course of action. Thinking before acting is a powerful strategy to prevent problems and enjoy higher levels of psychological health. #MilPsychJargon